PHOENIX PLEASED WITH SAN DIEGO ROAD RACE PLAN

PHOENIX, Oct. 7.—Unbounded enthusiasm prevailed in Phoenix upon announcement by Atty. Gen. Purdy Bullard of the receipt of a telegram from Col. Ed Fletcher, F. B. Naylor and F. W. Jackson stating that the proposition of a San Diego to Phoenix automobile road race had been launched with spontaneous success from the San Diego end.

Business men immediately gathered and talked the project over, and in less than three hours the $1000 asked as a guarantee by the San Diego boosters was secured. There was absolutely no hesitancy in meeting the terms of the San Diego, and Attorney General Bullard, as well as all other Phoenix citizens, was delighted with the spirit shown by enthusiasts in the Silver Gate.

All will boost as enthusiastically for the event as for that which will start from Los Angeles, and every assurance is that there will be no lack of interest on the part of Phoenix at any time. The importance of demonstrating the value of the Imperial San Diego county highway will tend to make the speed contest of more consequence to the great majority of Arizonians than the Los Angeles race.

H. F. DIERKER'S 2,000 MILE AUTO TRIP

Travels From Los Angeles to Yakima, Wash., in an Overland 30

The following notice from the Yakima (Wash.) Daily Republic concerning H. F. Dierker, the son of Henry Dierker of Orange, will be of interest to his friends here and in Orange and to autoists who are interested in overland journeys:

H. F. Dierker and wife arrived yesterday from Los Angeles in an automobile. They have property on the reservation, and are going to make their home in North Yakima. They were 38 days on the trip from Los Angeles, but stopped at several cities on the way and made a number of side trips. They traveled in an Overland 30, last year's model, and carried with them a complete camping outfit weighing over 1400 pounds. Mr. Dierker said that they came through without a single accident of any consequence, and the little car is now in as good shape as when they left Los Angeles.

Throughout the journey they carried a banner on which was printed in large letters: "Los Angeles to North Yakima or Bust."

"The sign post activity of the Portland Auto Club has made motoring in Oregon a pleasure the autoists of a few years ago cannot appreciate," says Mr. Dierker.

"A person who hasn't made the trip under the old postless order of things cannot realize how the sign posts, with their feeling of security from wrong roads, adds to the enjoyment of motoring."

"The roads are excellent, and if the average automobile owner knew that the trip is a comparatively easy one for any good car, the number of tourists would be increased many times."

The Dierkers left Los Angeles July 10, carrying a full camping equipment in addition to personal baggage. A number of interesting fishing and hunting resorts were visited on the route, adding much to the pleasure of the journey. The Pacific Highway was followed all the way, passing through Santa Barbara, Santa Cruz, San Jose and San Francisco, where three days were spent. From there the course took

EVANS GIVES HIS ANSWER

Has no Alliance With Los Angeles—Stands For Humanitarian Reforms

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 7.—The Spreckels organization of San Diego county received another blow in the solar plexus today when S. C. Evans, the Progressive Republican nominee for Congress from this district, gave his answer to an editorial which appeared in the Spreckels paper last week. The editorial charged Evans with being leagued with Congressman Stephens, of Los Angeles, and declared that the voters of San Diego do not care anything about "the eight-hour law for women or other humanitarian reforms or legislation, but simply wanted to know what Evans could bring home in the way of 'bacon' for San Diego."

"I do not know Congressman Stephens," said Evans today. "I have never met him nor have I directly or indirectly made any such alliance as that referred to. I have said time and time again and I now repeat that I have no Los Angeles alliances, have never consulted with the Los Angeles Progressives or been advised by them. All that I ask is fair treatment and fair play, but such repeated statements as these in the face of my repeated denial, is far remote from either fairness or reason."

"The man who could write an editorial of that kind is certainly devoid of all ideals and is so far submerged in the 'pork barrel' that his head sticks out just far enough for him to sputter unintelligible utterances. The people of this district do stand for higher ideals and better things in government. The thinking men and women of all parties will not approve of statements such as expressed in the Tribune article, and I will stake my chances on the verdict. The day has gone when an editor can make light of laws and reforms which all thinking people acknowledge are desirable. Such statements as this article contains are but the last gasps of the fast disappearing ward politician of the cheap order."

Evans is now touring Inyo and Mono counties and expects to be in this part of the district for the next week.

the autoists through Ukiah, Eureka and Crescent City, and then across into Oregon just below Grants Pass. From Medford they made a two-day side trip to Crater Lake, which is a delightful trip this season of the year, with good riding all the way.

PHOTOGRAPHY IN STUDY OF BLOOD

Sex, Color and Age Disclosed By Microscopic Study of Blood Corpuscles

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—Experiments with human blood, conducted by Prof. Reychert of the University of Pennsylvania, are interesting his fellow scientists. The professor says he has been able to learn from a drop of blood whether it is that of a white or a colored person, whether that of a male or female, and approximately the age of the subject from which the specimen has been taken. All of this has been brought about by the use of photography, by which the microscopic particles of blood can be studied with precision. Some of the blood corpuscles are but 3-1000ths of an inch long.

DE PALMA MAY YET RECOVER

Physicians Say Chance for Life—Places of Winners in Grand Prix Race

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 7.—No change is reported in the condition of Ralph De Palma, who was so seriously hurt in Saturday's Grand Prix automobile race. The famous driver's wife arrived today. His physicians say he has a good chance of recovery.

De Palma met with his accident, which was supposed to be fatal at the time, in a desperate effort to overtake Caleb Bragg on the last lap of the Grand Prix race at Wauwatosa race course, while driving a Mercedes car. His mechanic, Tom Alley, sustained hurts from which he probably will die. Bragg won the race. De Palma and Bragg collided on the back stretch when the former tried to pass on the narrow roadway. The car was overturned and both driver and mechanic were pinned underneath it. De Palma's legs were broken, and his skull fractured. Alley was internally injured.

Winners of Place

Bragg's time as winner of first place for the 410 miles was 359 minutes, 25 seconds.

Erwin Bergdoll, in a Benz, was second and Gil Anderson, in a Stutz, the only American car to finish, was third. Bergdoll's time was 374:58.38; Anderson's was 375:22.47.

Berney Oldfield, Teddy Tetzlaff, Hughie Hughes and Spencer Wishart lost whatever chances they had of winning through accidents. Tetzlaff, after leading the first half of the way, was thrown into the ditch by a sprained axle on the rear wheel of his Fiat. Teddy was bruised and shaken, but no bones were broken. He was the large part of a lap ahead when the mishap overtook him.

Announcement of Engagement

Formal announcement of the engagement of Miss Willis C. Cleveland to T. Harry Warner was made Saturday afternoon in an announcement party given by Mrs. W. W. Cleveland, at her home, 505 East Fifth street.

Boughs of California shade and fruit trees were used in decorations and the guests joined in guessing the names of these various trees represented. Mrs. W. L. Tubbs won the prize with a correct guess on every tree. A handsome hand-painted china plate was the prize.

A dainty collation was served on small tables, each table having four covers. In the center of each table was a large hand-painted leaf in autumn tints with the name of a popular author inscribed on it. Each lady was given a smaller autumn leaf inscribed with the name of a "good seller" novel, and bidden to search for the table whereon the name of the author would be found.

Accompanying each course, salads, sandwiches, ices and heart-shaped cakes and other delicacies were two red hearts, then came the tiny envelopes in which were hand-painted announcement cards with the names of the principals inscribed underneath a cupid and two red hearts. As a climax the hostess reversed the center autumn leaf on each table, showing the date, October, 1912. Some thirty-five guests were entertained at the pretty party.

PROPERTY OWNERS OF THE SOUTH SIDE TO CONSIDER SEWER LATERALS TONIGHT

Tonight's meeting of the City Trustees is of great importance to residents and owners of property in the southern part of the city not now accessible to sewers. The City Trustees have called a mass meeting of the people of the South Side to consider ways and means of getting laterals, to which houses may connect, and thus have sewer accommodations.

The city has paid for a main running east and west on Fairview, as far as Main street, where Fairview ends. The sewer will lie on Main street for a block south from Fairview, and at McFadden street a turn to the east is made, and the main will be laid on McFadden street as far east as Orange avenue.

Laterals are to be laid on the streets that run into this sewer main from the north. It is proposed to form sewer districts to pay for these laterals. Just what will be done depends upon the sentiment shown at the meeting tonight. If the property owners on a private contract, which they can do probably if there are no owners on that street who declare against the plan, the matter will be soon settled. If it proves necessary to form a district and force the laterals in, it will take more time and also more expense, but some of the property owners may conclude that that method will be the most advisable on account of some of the property belonging to non-resident property owners or to some person who holds back on the proposition.

City Engineer Finley, Sewer Superintendent Reid, and City Attorney Heathman have been instructed by the City Trustees to be prepared tonight to explain to the South Side residents every phase of the situation, and to outline to them the various methods by which the laterals may be laid, how paid for, how much they will cost, and all about them.

The City Trustees want to do the thing the way the people want it done, and in order to find out what the people want it will be necessary that there be a large representation of residents and property owners interested present tonight.

Pruning Orange Trees To Promote Their Thrift

(BY CHARLES R. PAINE, Crafton, Cal., in Bulletin of State Commissioner of Horticulture.)

In the multitude of leaves on a navel orange tree the most are ordinary, two and one-half inches by three-fourths inches. If the tree is fairly vigorous, there are many among them four inches by one and three-fourths inches wide. On larger parts of the limbs, when opportunity is given for their growth, there are some leaves five and one-half inches by two and one-half inches and larger ones on suckers.

Since a good proportion of large green leaves indicate thrift, the need for pruning them is obvious.

If considerable part of the outer foliage consists of small leaves on feeble twigs, and they are yellowish, or, if the red spider has made inroads on their chlorophyll, or scale hindered their activities, the food-conducting power is diminished; the health of the tree is affected, even on rich, well-cared for soil; and the fruit is inferior in proportion to the poverty of the foliage. If there is too great a ratio of very large leaves, as in young trees, and in sucker growths, the fruit corresponds in coarseness.

An approach to the best conditions of foliage for vigor and productivity may be had by judicious pruning.

Allowing the weakened terminals to run long—a kind of self-pruning method—will sometimes result in an openness of the branches so that new growths will form farther in and the tree will, to a degree, be renewed by the leaf activity in elaborating plant food. Such waiting is undesirable, for too great loss of vitality and time results.

The worn-out parts of all main branches which usually lie under or at the side of the newer, or better parts and are of less diameter, should be cut off; likewise the ranker up-growing shoots on such principal branches should be pruned away to avoid deterioration of the branch they grow upon.

The better parts, thus relieved, will become more vigorous and new large leaves will shortly appear on exposed parts of the limbs so treated.

A more expeditious process, giving better and more lasting results, consists in opening the top of the navel orange tree by cutting out limbs tending to upright growth, also the branches of all others that hang inward.

Sunburn on the bare parts of the slanting limbs remaining need not be feared, for, under solar influence, they will soon be covered with short-stemmed, broad-leaved shoots, that will be both fruitful as well as important factors in the food-making supply of the tree.

In consequence of this top opening, new foliage will spring from the inner wall which will also be fruit-bearing. Suckers will be few if the opening is generous and dead wood, once removed, can not be formed again, owing to active growth resulting from light in the interior and free circulation of air.

The two results of the reviving energy of good new leaves and increased fruiting more than offset the loss by removal of the branches cut out of the top which in old trees are too feeble and in young trees too rank for good fruiting.

If all trees, even the best, are kept free of branches more or less exhausted and from too vigorous shoots, their usefulness will be improved and old age be postponed.

When the interior is filled with new foliage the terminals, having slight recuperative powers, may be clipped off and the whole tree will be green and productive throughout.

GIVING TALK ON THE RIGHT KIND OF LIVING

ANAHEIM, Oct. 7.—Today at 12:30 o'clock Mr. Harry Holmes will speak to the Student League of the Anaheim Union High School. Mr. Holmes is coming under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association of Los Angeles, and will probably talk along the line of Christian work and the right kind of living. He was the gentleman who addressed the assembled Student Leagues at their last banquet at Hamburger's in Los Angeles. His talk was very inspiring and elevating and his humorous nature enlivened the evening. Shortly after this banquet Mr. A. Ray Petty of the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A., came down and talked to the boys of this school and helped to organize the league here.

The Student League is entirely for boys and the principles for which it stands are clean speech, clean athletics, and clean life. Each member pledges himself to spread these principles and to help his fellow students in every other possible way. Results have already been shown in the Anaheim high school by the absence of profane and vulgar language and general behavior of the boys about the school and grounds.

Mr. Holmes is just completing a tour of the United States, in which he has touched every state from the Pacific to the Atlantic, dropping his message to the boys wherever he has traveled.

It is to be regretted that Mr. Holmes comes at the noon hour, as it would do every boy in the county good to hear him, for it is considered a pleasure and an opportunity to have him at any time. He sails from San Francisco in the near future for his home in Australia, by way of Honolulu. He is slated to speak to the boys of thirteen schools in Southern California in four days, which surely is a busy schedule.

NEWS BUDGET OF EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Oct. 7.—The school trustees have had orange trees on the site for the new schoolhouse removed and have advertised for bids on the new building.

Owing to scarlet fever in the families of Mr. Arambel, Mr. Thomas and Mr. Miller the school was closed on Tuesday evening so that the school rooms might be fumigated, this having been done under the supervision of the county physician, Dr. Wehrly, school will begin again on next Monday.

There is an enrollment of 157 pupils, which gives the five teachers plenty of work, and does not crowd the rooms as heretofore.

Mr. La Londe has moved to Orange. Mrs. Clark Nichols has received word of the serious illness of her mother in Texas. She intends to start back home Tuesday. Mr. Nichols will accompany her as far as Wilcox, Ariz., where he will stop for about thirty days, before returning.

Vester Summers has sold his home in El Modena and with Mr. Luntford has purchased sixty acres of land under the Roosevelt Dam. They will start in about two weeks for their new home.

The rainfall to Saturday morning has been .70 inch, according to the rain gauge of R. W. Jones.

The deputy sheriff was in the village making up a special venire of jurors for the Macdonald case, but all were allowed to return home as they were not needed.

J. Roelands had the misfortune to smash a wheel of his surrey on the street car track at the corner of La Veta and Batavia streets in Orange. His was the third accident of the same kind to occur at that place inside of two weeks. Would it not be well to look into conditions there?

B. F. Merrill has moved into the Elke property.

Mrs. Sue Brownlee is expected home soon from her trip back East.

SEEDLING DATE PALMS GROWN SUCCESSFULLY

Coachella Valley Fruit of Remarkable Quality; Reed and Edmonds Largest Growers

Riverside Press: By this time the success of the date industry is assured by the successful propagation of offshoots and their fine crops of good fruit. However, offshoots are not to be had for the asking and are beyond a poor man's purse.

The government furnishes limited quantities of seed to actual farmers who desire to experiment with seedling dates. If the industry depended solely on offshoots it would develop rather slowly. The seedlings may be propagated very rapidly and in large quantities. Their importance is not always realized.

There is a variety of date that promises to be very popular. It is called the Bentkalla and comes from North Africa. J. P. Reed has a four-year-old seedling that is bearing a good quality of fruit this year.

An early variety that Mr. Reed also has produced from seed is the Tadala, native of North Africa. This seedling palm bore its fruit and it ripened August 10th this season. There were two bunches and the dates were full size and of good quality.

Another seedling that bids fair to surpass the famous Deglet Noor is bearing fruit this year at the age of five years. The fruit was picked September 28th this season. This is a No. 1 date of excellent flavor.

It must be borne in mind that seedlings do not reach their standard of quality until seven or eight years old in some cases. The fruit borne in earlier years is often somewhat smaller.

Some red dates borne on seedling palms at Mr. Reed's are not showing up quite as well as the others, but their fruit is marketable and of fair quality although small. This variety is called the Sadee.

Mr. Edmonds has a five-year-old seedling bearing short round fruit of larger size than that of many of the imported offshoots. It is probably another San Pedro palm but the name is not definitely known. The palm has two fair sized bunches of fruit and its owner considers it of great value.

Mr. Edmonds was very successful with his pollenization this year. His bearing palms are well set. He has sixteen varieties of seedling dates. About 20 palms are bearing this season. All are bearing marketable fruit and about half are bearing fruit of excellent quality.

When a person is so fortunate as to secure a seedling palm of super-excellent quality they certainly have something worth while. Nearly all the growers have one or more and besides the fruit they bear it must be remembered that the average young palm at six or seven years of age bears enough offshoots that may be transplanted in a year or so, which together with their own offshoots will set an acre of palms from the one palm in the course of nine or ten years. This is not only an opinion but easily demonstrable and will be substantiated by anyone familiar with the date palm. Occasionally palms bear very few offshoots, others a great many. But the time stated would be a fair average.

The seedling growers are finding that their first considerable financial return from their palms is from the offshoots which are marketable before the fruit is borne in any abundance.

Mr. Edmonds has a seedling that has 14 offshoots on it at present. This is not at all unusual.
The choicest quality of dates are selling at about 80 cents a pound f. o. b. this valley, packed in confectionery boxes.

Others, including most Persian varieties, are selling in the neighborhood of 65 cents a pound. We know of none, not even seedling fruit, that is selling for less than 35 cents.

Every incision of the palms growing in the valley at present points to a bright future for the industry.

PLAN VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN FOR THE TWO GREAT LEADERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—The campaign for Roosevelt and Johnson in California is to be continued with utmost vigor during the few weeks that remain. The committee that was in charge of the primary campaign is to continue its efficient work, and things will now be humming until election day.

Daniel A. Ryan of San Francisco will direct the fight as chairman of the campaign committee. Associated with him are John W. Stetson, Arthur Arlett, Alfred Greenbaum, Chester H. Rowell, T. S. Williams, Leo S. Robinson, Charles D. Detrick, Charles P. Cutten and Philip Bancroft, secretary.

Headquarters have been established at 731 Market Street, in the same rooms occupied during the May campaign. A finance committee is at work and a publicity organization has been effected.

Governor Johnson will be back in California the latter part of October and will deliver a number of speeches. Francis J. Heney, who is also speaking in the east, will return by the middle of the month, and then give his time exclusively to California.

Demands are already coming in from the interior for speakers. In the San Joaquin Valley the Democrats are showing a great deal of activity and the Progressive Republicans are planning for some energetic work in that region. A thorough touring of the valley by speakers is being planned.

The women's organizations are particularly eager for the speaking campaign to begin. Many requests for assignments are now on file from them. The weekly district meetings in the cities have proved very successful, and the state committee aims to encourage them as much as possible, and to supply speakers for them whenever requested.

The demand for the Bull Moose buttons has exceeded expectations. An order for 60,000 more of them has been wired to Chicago. Campaign literature for distribution by the Roosevelt Clubs is now being mailed out from the ample supply forwarded from national headquarters.

The following is a list, in part, of the speakers who will be available for the campaign: Mrs. Ida Mackrille, Mrs. Charles D. Blaney, Mrs. Elizabeth Gerberding, C. P. Cutten, Charles S. Wheeler, Chester H. Rowell, Albert H. Elliott, Lee C. Gates, Daniel A. Ryan, Jesse C. Steinhart, ex-Governor George C. Pardee, Frank R. Devlin, Arthur Arlett, J. J. Dwyer, James Oliver, John H. Eshleman, Max Thelen, Dr. A. P. Giannini, Matt J. Sullivan, William Beasley, F. H. Dam, John F. Davis, and Charles L. Neumiller.

Relying on the support the old-time Taft bosses are promising, the Wilson managers are entertaining hopes of carrying California for the Democratic standard bearer. But already they have encountered serious difficulties. Their candidates for congress have in some districts run the ship on the rocks, even at this early stage, the tariff question being responsible. To advocate tariff for revenue only, as is in the emphatic demand of the national Democratic platform, becomes impossible in California. Even the brilliant Stephen M. White couldn't cope with the situation in his day, with all his effort at specious argument, for California industries need and want protection, and no theory of the revenue tariff can be evolved to satisfy them.

The Wilson management in California is no helpless, impoverished affair. It has splendid offices in the building owned by Mr. James D. Phelan. A guiding factor is Gavin McNair, reputed as state leader four years ago, but now restored to his post of leadership. The "restoration" is the occasion of much new enthusiasm, and already the question has arisen, who shall have a cabinet appointment when Wilson becomes president? However, Wilson has refused to come to California, having sent word that he will turn back at Denver, to resume the work that is so urgently needed in the east, particularly in the state of New York, where the Progressives are now conceded to be making great headway, and to have excellent prospects of winning the state for Roosevelt and Johnson.

For several years past a Mr. Woodworth at Whittier has made butcher knives—bread kitchen knives and he made a fine quality, but did not polish the blades so highly as most other makers have done, choosing to make everything subordinate to the cutting edge. We have sold his goods for the past two years and found the temper better than most other articles in this line.

Mr. Woodworth died recently and the stock he left on hand has been sold by the administrator and we bought a large number of the several kinds, all of which we will sell at a small price.

ASSESSORS DISCUSS STATE CONVENTION

Officials From Seven Counties Meet in Los Angeles to Arrange Plans

Los Angeles Examiner: Assessors from seven counties of Southern California met here last week, reorganized the Southern California Assessors' Association and formed preliminary plans for the convention of the State Association of Assessors, to be opened here December 10.

Those at the meeting were Assessors Edward W. Hopkins, Los Angeles County; James Sleeper, Orange County; W. F. Montague, Riverside County; Frank P. Meserve, San Bernardino County; Montgomery M. Moulton, San Diego County; Cilo Lloyd, Santa Barbara County; Chief Deputy J. Barry, Ventura County, and associate members Al Adams, W. V. Hill, Frank Walters, E. A. De Camp and Blade Gregory.

The state convention will be on a much broader scale than ever before. Auditors and tax collectors interested in the proposed changes in the state revenue laws will be invited to attend. Legislators before whom the proposed change will be presented next winter will also be invited. Members of the State Board of Equalization will issue a circular letter, summoning the assessors.

Assessors Hopkins and Sleeper and Associate Member Gregory were appointed to have charge of the program for Southern counties. Chief Deputy Weed, Assessor Barry and Associate Member Adams were appointed as a finance committee. It was decided that only one day be devoted to pleasure.

Breaking Road Through the Rough Mountains

The Los Angeles Times yesterday had the following concerning the new Sevierville canyon road:

With dynamite, mules, Fresno scrapers, picks, shovels and axes, a gang of men is breaking road through the Santa Ana mountains to join the south end of Orange county with the Elsinore Valley. When this road is completed next December there will be opened to automobilists of Southern California a new and delightful route for automobile trips through a wild, picturesque region.

Men afoot and on horseback have traversed the canyon up which the road is being built, but no wagon has ever yet been through it. Men who have driven their cars over every road of this end of the state will find a wonderful new road for them to explore, leading through groves of oaks, sycamores and alders, along a tumbling trout stream, between walls of scrub oak and greasewood through which the road has been cut. From near San Juan Hot Springs on the Orange county side, to Elsinore, a distance of thirteen miles, will be miles of rough country, where not even a bee camp may lay claim to a sign of human industry.

Automobilists by the hundred drive the main road to San Diego. At the old Franciscan mission at San Juan Capistrano is where they will turn to the east for the new trip through the mountains. For twelve miles they will travel up the beautiful San Juan Canyon. On either side are the foothills, the sycamore flats and oaks, of what is now one of the most delightful drives of Orange county's fascinating out-of-doors. This is one of the oldest roads in this section. It was used by the padres 100 years ago in travelling to and from the hot springs.

That spot has been a favorite camping ground and the springs a favorite cure-all from that day to this.

At the springs, the canyon forks and soon afterward all travel by wagon ends.

For a good many years there has been urgent call for a road over the mountains. The roughness of the region seemed a barrier. Trails led over the range, but roads would cost no small sum of money.

Seven years ago Col. S. H. Finley made a survey from the San Juan Hot Springs up the south fork, known as Sevierville Canyon, and declared that a road could be built to the Riverside county line. Riverside wanted the road. The Elsinore Valley needed it. Its people going to the coast had to go many miles out of the way. There was no road connecting the interior with the coast road, not one road from the Santa Ana canyon far to the north to the Fallbrook road far to the south in San Diego county.

This year the Board of Supervisors took hold of the project in earnest. It was County Supervisor J. L. McBride who went back into the mountains, and with men to cut a way through for him he laid out a course over which he knew a road could be built. It was a problem in engineering difficult of solution, but McBride solved it. Under his direction, Jack Combs and a gang of men cut off the timber and hewed a way through the mass of brush along mountainsides and in the canyon bottom. Then the contract for building the road was let to Oscar Ford of Riverside for $10,000.

Ford's men are now at work. It is five miles from the Hot Springs to the county line. Part of the way road must be cut through solid rock, and again the side of the mountain with its huge boulders must give a roadway. When completed, every foot of the road will be easily traversed by the ordinary automobile, and at no point will it be too narrow for easy passing. No part of the road will be less than fifteen feet in width. Much of it will be twenty and twenty-five.

Every bit of it will be a delight to a lover of the rough mountains. A mile of it lies in a deep gorge through which the water tumbles. On the day of the opening of the deer season, Roy Beals of Santa Ana killed two bucks in this gorge.

The lower portion of the road has been completed. It furnishes many a beauty spot and camping place beneath shade and beside running water. The men employed on construction have kept the camp frying pans well filled with trout.

Riverside county's share of the road is practically complete. It runs from the lake at Elsinore up the range and over the pass and will meet the Orange county road at the county line. Ford estimates that he will finish his job in December.

gray hair to natural color. The care of the hair, to prevent it from losing its color and lustre, is just as important as to care for teeth to keep them from discoloring. Why spend money for cosmetics and creams to improve the complexion, and yet neglect your hair, when grey hair is even more conspicuous and suggestive of age than wrinkles or a poor complexion? Of the two, it is easier to preserve the natural color and beauty of the hair than it is to have a good complexion.

All that is necessary is the occasional use of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of common garden Sage and Sulphur, combined with other valuable remedies for dry, harsh, faded hair, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. After a few applications of this simple, harmless remedy, your hair will gradually be restored to its natural color. In a short time the dandruff will be removed, and your hair will no longer come out but will start to grow as Nature intended it should.

Don't neglect your hair, for it goes further than anything else to make or mar your good looks. You can buy this remedy at any drug store for fifty cents a bottle, and your druggist will give you money back if you are not satisfied after using. Purchase a bottle today. You will never regret it when you realize the difference it will make in your appearance.

OPPOSITE CITY HALL. SANTA ANA, CAL.

Monday, October 7, theater goers of this city will have an opportunity of seeing what is considered by the American Geographical Society and the American Institute of Natural History, as the most marvelous motion pictures ever taken. Probably more than in any pictures of recent years, do these films, made by Mr. Rainey in the jungles of Africa, have a genuine educational value. They should, at any rate, prove more attractive to the average theater-goer and seeker after knowledge than any book or play. Hunting big game with a camera has been one of Mr. Rainey's hobbies for years, and when he plunged into Africa with a moving picture camera he could hardly have expected to achieve the results that are shown in these pictures. They were not taken for public exhibition, and it was more by accident than anything else, that gave Mr. Rainey an idea of their commercial value. They were taken for his own pleasure, and not as a business project. Hunting wild African game with a moving picture machine is a sport for the few, for it entails enormous expense and countless dangers; but Rainey is a sportsman, not a showman. The pictures will show the biggest and the wildest of African wild animals in their natural condition. If only half that is said of these pictures is true, they are more to be desired as entertainment than much that is offered as legitimate drama.

NEED A MAN OF ACTION

The Sacramento Bee gives to its readers a strong argument in favor of the selection of Col. Roosevelt for president. The advice comes under this heading: "Choose a Fighter to Battle for the People." The Bee says:

In his speech in this city Bryan mentioned Roosevelt as a late convert to certain Progressive policies.

The same may be said of Woodrow Wilson, particularly with regard to direct legislation—the initiative and the referendum; and he has just declared himself, once more, opposed to the recall for judges.

It matters little, however, in the choice between candidates by the people, when or how long the nominee may have professed any particular set of doctrines. In each case the main question is: What are his present views, and what force and ability can he bring to bear to put them into effect?

It may be granted, for example, that both Wilson and Roosevelt are sincere and earnest in their professions of devotion to the public welfare, as against private privilege and injustice.

The question remains as to which best can serve the people in the great conflict that has long been going on at Washington in their behalf, against the allied forces of greed, monopoly and wrong.

In a word, who is most fitted to lead and direct the battle with the interests?

On the one hand there is the academic Wilson, a suave, scholarly, deferential gentleman, accustomed to weighing his words carefully, conservative in sentiment and cautious in action; studiously polite in controversy and feeling his way carefully in all he undertakes—wholly a stranger to the tremendous duties, obligations and difficulties of the presidential office and to the great host of able and crafty men who represent the interests at Washington.

On the other hand is Roosevelt, the fighter, and the man of action; prompt, resolute, alert, resourceful and masterly; whose experience in the White House and thorough knowledge of public men and executive duties, as well as of all the ways and means of legislation, give him an enormous advantage over any novice, such as Wilson.

Roosevelt's methods and manners have been more or less criticised, but his enemies all admit his forcefulness and extraordinary powers as an executive—that he gets things done that he undertakes, where success is possible; that he inspires courage and enthusiasm, marshals his forces with marvelous generalship and insight, sizes opportunities as they appear, and overwhelms or breaks down sinister opposition by sheer will power and determination.

It is such magnificent pluck and irresistible fighting force, arising from faith and conviction, that are needed in the White House to do battle for the people—not polite deference and timid weighing of pros. and cons. in the light of the midnight lamp.

As between Roosevelt and Wilson,

Alike But So Different

FROM CALIFORNIA OUTLOOK.

Veteran leaders in the Taft camp seem to derive much satisfaction out of comparing the present campaign with that of 1896, when the star of Bryan rose suddenly to the zenith, blazed grandly for two months, and then went out. The moral of the comparison, as they wish to read it, is that the "craze" for Roosevelt shown by the people in the primary votes was the mad yearning for Bryan and Free Silver, which seemed to be in entire possession of the public mind in July of 1896, was well under control by the end of the campaign.

The comparison is worth making as there are certain elements of similarity; but if we are to use it for purposes of prediction, we must note also the very striking features of dissimilarity.

The campaign of 1896 was not very well understood at the time by either side. To the Republicans favoring gold standard, it seemed to be a sudden craze on the part of vast numbers of discontented, ignorant people in favor of an untried financial scheme, whose chief advocate, the Democratic nominee, was a young man in no wise fitted for the presidency but possessed of a remarkable power as a spell-binder. To the Democrats and others favoring the 16 to 1 doctrine, it was a spectacular rise to prominence of a great leader of the common people, with a plan that would reorganize the world's affairs on a basis of fair dealing and equal opportunity.

Both sides were partly right and a good deal wrong. What the Republicans did not understand was that the Bryan free-silver movement was a sincere effort to better the condition of those in the lower ranks of life whose welfare was only vaguely considered in the "prosperity" doctrine of Hanna and McKinley, and that this effort—undertaken then for the first time by a great political party—was what put extraordinary vitality into an organization which only a few months before had seemed a mere drifting derelict. What the Democrats did not understand was that the financial idea on which they had staked everything was an utter fallacy, whose adoption would have wrecked the nation, and that when they swore by their leader, Bryan—brave and sincere though he was—they were swearing by the moon, that changed policy every four years or thereabouts. By 1900 Bryan had forgotten all about free-silver—and so had the Democrats—and the campaign of that year was made on the basis of Anti-imperialism—a word of no meaning. By 1904 he favored the government ownership of railroads and the initiative and referendum. By 1908 he had shifted to state guarantee of bank deposits. We search this Baltimore platform of 1912 in vain for these various dogmas. There is a reminiscent toast on Anti-imperialism and direct legislation barely noticed. And yet they were all issues which, if sound, would be just as much in order today as on the day when Bryan sprang them.

The chief point of similarity in the Bryan campaign of 1896 and the Roosevelt campaign of 1912 is in this common devotion to the welfare of the lower orders of society. Then as now there was a great breaking away from old party ties. There was also a third candidate in the field, but he was the aggressive man of action and experience should be chosen, rather than the cautious and conservative professor.

AFRICAN HUNTING
PICTURES TONIGHT

Tonight at the Grand Opera House those fine African hunting pictures, showing habits of big game, will be put on. They will be shown tonight, there merely to register a principle and not with any hope of success or purpose to found a permanent organization.

We have only to mention the two great points of dissimilarity in these campaigns to sweep away in an instant the hopes of those who argue from Bryan's failure that Roosevelt cannot succeed. The case for Bryan was absolutely staked on the wild and impossible doctrine of free silver. Those who could accept it on faith, or who thought they understood it, remained steadfast to the end, but those who listened to argument gradually came to realize the hopelessness of the plan. The Progressive party on the other hand is offering no patent all round cure-all but a definite policy of popular rule and of specific reforms fitted to the needs of the time. And their leader instead of being young and inexperienced with nothing but forensic achievements to his credit, is without a peer in the nation and perhaps in the world for practical knowledge of public affairs, and the long list of his deeds fills page after page of our country's most inspiring history.

Bryan was defeated it is true, but only by a terrific struggle and the expenditure of vast sums of money by the Republicans. Even then he came so near to success that the change of less than a hundred thousand votes would have made him president. His desperate appeal for those who suffer under the burdens of our economic system brought the nation up with a start, and had he offered a safe solution instead of a mad one, and had his own career been one to have inspired confidence in his powers as an administrator, there is no doubt whatever that he would have won his fight.

Taking the Bryan campaign as a model, the stand-patter makes himself believe that the American people will presently tire of Theodore Roosevelt and will vote against him next November. This theory is entirely in keeping with their utter failure to understand the motives, purposes and habits of the voters at large. Their conception of the people is of a mob, swayed hither and thither by aimless impulses. But we know better than that. Theodore Roosevelt with a record of thirty years service in public life, in peace and war, in city, state and nation, a legislator and administrator, the leading citizen of the world, and the best friend the people have ever known, is rather a different force in a political contest from Bryan, half lawyer and half newspaperman, with a service of a few years in Congress and the achievement of one notable speech in a party convention. What Bryan did was amazing when we consider the handicap he carried; but it is not strange that a majority of our people have three times refused to accept him for practical work. Roosevelt, on the contrary, has been accepted over and over again, and when, four years ago, he laid down the office of president, he might have had it again almost by unanimous vote. He also is contenting with heavy odds though of a different sort from those Bryan had to meet. Like Bryan he pleads the cause of humanity, but on a rational basis, and it is to that standard that the brave hearts and chief hopes of the nation are now rallying.

Kate Measor Blazes Away at
Man Who Was Trying to Buy Beer From Her

First Pull of Trigger Brought a
Snap, Else Gastelum Might
Now be Dead

Mrs. Kate Measor is in jail again. This time it is for taking a couple of shots at Henry Gastelum, who went to her place with special officers employed to detect the woman in selling liquor if possible.

Mrs. Measor has been out on bail for some time awaiting the decision of the appellate court on an appeal in a case, judgment in which was fine and sentence to the county jail. The woman was found guilty and sentenced for selling liquor.

Saturday night an expedition to Mrs. Measor's home at Delhi was arranged. Deputy Sheriff Law remained in the road. J. B. Ramsey, who has done considerable detective work for the county in detective cases, and his son, Henry, and two Spaniards, one of them Ramsey and one of the Spaniards hid behind a palm tree. Gastelum and young Ramsey went to the door, and on knocking Mrs. Measor appeared. Gastelum asked for beer, and the woman replied that she had none to sell. Gastelum insisted. Suddenly Mrs. Measor jerked a revolver from her clothing, and aimed it at Gastelum. She pulled the trigger, and the revolver snapped. Gastelum and Ramsey started to run. Mrs. Measor then fired two shots. J. B. Ramsey pulled his revolver and fired into the air to let the woman know that there were firearms on the side of the visitors.

By this time the four men were in flight for the road, where they got into the automobile with Law and went to town, where Gastelum swore to a complaint charging Mrs. Measor with assault with a deadly weapon. Sheriff Rudlock served the warrant, and placed the woman in jail.

Hangs Over His Head

With a sentence of six months in jail suspended over his head, H. W. Call, who lives on East Fourth street near the Southern Pacific, has every reason to keep his promise to leave liquor alone. Call was arrested last night on a charge of battery. D. L. Pickett, a stranger here, was passing Call's house when he saw Call abusing Mrs. Call. Pickett made Call let the woman go to a neighbor's. Officers were called, and Call was taken to jail by City Marshal Jernigan. This morning Call went before Justice Cox, pleaded guilty to the charge of battery and was given a suspended sentence of six months. Call said he gets off on occasional drunks. Yesterday's trouble started with drinking at Newport Beach. Call thanked the court, thanked Pickett for having him arrested, and promised to keep sober. He is said to be a hard-working man and peaceable enough when sober.

Abused the Marshal
City Marshal E. L. Vincent of Huntington Beach has been having a round of criticism at his home town, some of it based on the charge that he brings his cases to the justice's court at Santa Ana instead of presenting them to the justice at Huntington Beach. Today Vincent was here to swear to another complaint in the local justice's court, and the man named Joe Lewis, keeper of a poolroom at the beach town, and the charge was disturbing the peace. Vincent is the man who was disturbed. It is alleged that Lewis went upon the street and by the use of language used to Vincent disturbed that officer's peace.

Doings In Social and Club Circles

DELIGHTFUL EVENING

Miss Zelma Sturgeon Hostess to Forty Young People in Philathea Entertainment

Responding to the cordial invitation of Miss Zelma Sturgeon about forty young people of the First Presbyterian Sunday school gathered at her beautiful home on South Birch where they enjoyed an evening that will long be remembered by all present as one of the happiest, if not the happiest ever spent together.

The social games were enjoyed by every one. One of the "Specials" was the complete photographic biography of the life of each one present. The pictures were taken from old magazines and were pasted into books especially made for that purpose. These were gathered up and sent to the judges. While these were in the hands of the judges the hostess, anticipating the feeling of the crowd, after this "strenuous" work of determining the past, present and future of the person whose biography they were picturing, served a never ceasing supply of delicious home-made candy followed by punch and wafers. The returns from the impartial judges were then read and prizes awarded as follows: Miss Opal Baker, first ladies' prize; Robert Finley, first gentlemen's prize; Theo. Palmer, consolation.

After the prizes were awarded the books were given to the person whose life was pictured and much enjoyment was obtained by passing these around in order that each might view the artistic work of the maker. Luckily the clock on the mantel stopped at 25 minutes of 10, so the hour never grew late.

When parting time came, many, many compliments were passed on the success of the evening's entertainment.

A. B., P. O. E.

The first meeting of Chapter A. B., P. O. E., was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Kittie, on Saturday last.

At 12 o'clock a very dainty and delicious four-course breakfast was served. As this was the first meeting of the year, it is needless to say the atmosphere was not oppressed by a tumultuous silence, for conversation ran riot. Two at each table progressed after each course, which added considerably to the flow of talk.

After the tables were removed a short business meeting was held. The rollcall was an amusing as well as instructive feature of the meeting, as each member responded with bits of "Golden Gossip of Summer."

We are glad to say that Miss Fagge's time on Thursdays is full and that if there are two or three more violin pupils ready to begin she will arrange to come down Mondays also. This will make two lessons per week possible for those who desire them.

CIVICS CLUB RECEPTION

Excellent Papers From City Officials and C. of C. Secretary Read Prior to Social Hour

On last Saturday afternoon the Civics Club of Santa Ana held its opening meeting for the year in the assembly room of the city hall.

As this is a new organization, its membership is comparatively small; but a number of names were added to the list on Saturday, bringing the membership well toward a hundred.

Under the direction of the president, Mrs. A. J. Lawton, the business of the meeting was soon disposed of. The only matter of importance to consider was that of changing the regular meetings of the club from once in two weeks to once in four. It was decided to make this change, meetings to be held on the first Saturday of each month.

Arrangements had been made to have representatives from the city council, the chamber of commerce and the M. & M. association, to address the club along the line of co-operation in promoting the civic growth of Santa Ana.

City Clerk Joseph Burke was the first representative, who read a paper prepared by Trustee George McPhee. In this paper Mr. McPhee efficiently outlined a number of ways in which the ladies might assist in making Santa Ana better, from a sanitary and a moral point of view. He urged them to insist upon better sanitation in markets, bookshops, and the lot and yards. In order to better acquaint themselves with the way the city's business is conducted, he advised them to attend the meetings of the council whenever possible. He also called attention to the misuse made of our public parks by the young people of the town. All of these points are important and worthy of attention.

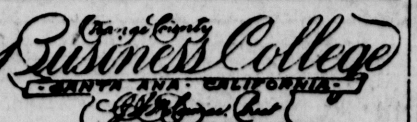

J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the chamber of commerce was next introduced and in his excellent address took occasion to tell the ladies how greatly appreciated are the bouquets furnished for the chamber of commerce exhibit rooms, and what an impression these flowers make upon the numerous eastern visitors who daily pass through these rooms. Mr. Metzgar's address was bright and instructive and received generous applause.

Mayor Frank E. followed Mr. Metzgar, and, having just returned from Berkeley, where he had attended the annual convention of the League of California Municipalities, Mr. E. was in possession of a fund of valuable information as to what other city governments are doing, and the methods they employ in carrying out their plans.

"This convention," said Mr. E., "was a liberal education to any man and I only wish that every member of our city council and every public official could have listened to its deliberations. Such educators as Benjamin Ide Wheeler and Professor Reed of the State University, such municipal representatives as Mayors Dobson of San Diego, Mott of Oakland, Stitt Wilson of Berkeley and City Attorney Percy Long of San Francisco, were some of our speakers and advisers. Besides, there were delegates from nearly every city and town in Southern California, all of whom contributed some item of interest to the assembly. Berkeley has a flourishing charter government, and is making a 'City Beautiful,' under its provisions. I was amazed at the miles of finely finished streets and roads, even outside the city proper, that I was taken to ride over, and the manner in which they are kept up and the beauty of yards and parkings was a revelation to me."

Mr. E. went on to say that it was the consensus of opinion among the educators and thinking men of the convention, that ward elections and political machine management should be done away with and that our city government should be conducted by men who are elected by all the people to represent all the people. These men should have two prime qualifications: First, unimpeachable honesty. Second, efficiency. A man possessing these qualities needs no other.

The mayor then made a special plea to the women to take up the matter of having our home lots and parkings kept in a more presentable condition. Lots in many parts of the city are so overgrown with weeds that even the sidewalk is made almost impassable by the overhanging growth on either side. He also asked that a committee of women be appointed to

Surprise Party

Last Thursday evening the members of the D.T.S. Club, with their husbands and friends gave a pleasant surprise to Miss Rosa Klatt, who leaves soon for her home in the East. In spite of the inclement weather nearly thirty persons gathered at the home of Mr. Meyers on East Seventeenth street, and, with their arms burdened with mysterious bundles, found their way in the dark to the Carl Klatt doorstep. Miss Klatt herself answered the ring and was truly surprised to find the porch filled with a laughing crowd. Once inside the hospitable home, merry games and conversation made the time pass quickly.

Refreshments of olives, sandwiches, cake and coffee were served, after which the president of the club, Mrs. Howard Wassum, in a pretty speech, presented Miss Klatt with a Santa Ana spoon. Miss Klatt responded, voicing her thanks and expressing her hope to return to California and the friends she has made.

Those present were Mesdames Wassum, Davis, Meyers, Marsile, Utt, Mangold, McArthur, Fews, L. R. Klatt and Carl Klatt; Misses Smith, May, Meyers, Mitter, Kasa Klatt and Ethel and Inez Klatt; Messrs. Meyers, Utt, Mangold, Marsile, Carl Klatt, L. R. Klatt, King and Marsile.

In Honor of Nurses

Mrs. I. D. Mills gives a glowing account of the nurses given last Friday in Mammoth Hall, Los Angeles, by Stanton Woman's Relief Corps in honor of the Civil War nurses living in Southern California. The luncheon is an annual event, the recent one being the sixteenth given by Stanton Corps.

The tables were set in a hollow square surrounding an inner table on which was an immense gilded basket overflowing with gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums with their own foliage. Mrs. Mills said the autumn flowers were suggestive of the autumn of life for those devoted women who bound up wounds and cheered the sick and fallen in the war days of the grim '90's.

Many C.A.R. veterans and some of the army nurses who live in the East, and who came to the recent C.A.R. encampment and who still linger in sunny California, were guests at the luncheon, covers being laid for 200. The nurses were all seated at one table and each one was called on to speak. There was a program of music and readings and a brief, eloquent address by Rev. Mr. Maxfield of Ohio.

"Y" Meeting Tonight

Young people are anticipating a lively discussion tonight at the "Y" meeting to be held at the home of Miss Anna McFadden, 1108 North Main street, when the debate on the "High Cost of Living" will maintain that high living is the nub of the high living contest with the boys in opposition. Readings, music and a social time will lend further interest to the meeting.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The W. C. T. U. will meet on Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the United Presbyterian church parlor. The subject is "Co-operation With Missionary Societies." The program is in charge of Mrs. Harry Dean, superintendent of that department. Every one is invited, especially all members of the missionary societies.

Old Newport Y. M. C. A. Meeting

Mr. R. J. Hamilton, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will meet with the boys at Old Newport at the M. E. Church South on Wednesday evening, October 9 at 8 o'clock. Immediately following they will repair to the paragonage to be entertained and refreshed by the young ladies. All of the young people of the community are most cordially invited to come and enjoy a good time.

To Receive at Studio

Mrs. Ada F. Champ will receive her friends and others interested in art at her studio, 929 French street, on Wednesday afternoon and evening.

THREW UP ARMS AND BROKE COLLAR BONE

W. W. Wasser Has a Run on Breaking Bones—Knows What Hard Luck is Hard luck is no name for the way Wilbur W. Wasser has had it handed to him by Dame Misfortune. Also Wasser has accomplished what some people think is an impossibility. He has broken his collar bone by raising his arm.

About a month ago Wasser was plucked over the handles of a plow. He was at work on his ranch when a double-tree slipped from its fastening, and the driver took a header over the handles.

A physician fixed him up for four broken ribs. That was a month ago today. Wasser said his shoulder hurt him, but there was no sign of a break. From that time until Saturday the shoulder kept sore. There seemed to be a sore spot on the collar-bone, but Wasser thought the muscles were sore, and he worked his shoulder as much as possible to get limbered up.

Last Saturday Wasser was standing on the curb in front of his home, and stepped to the gutter. As he did so he threw up his right arm to preserve his balance. He threw it up quickly. There was a snap, and instantly Wasser knew his collar-bone was broken.

Wasser has it figured out that the collar-bone was cracked when his ribs were broken, and his experiments in trying to loosen his muscles kept the bone from knitting. When he threw up his arm, the break was finished.

Sum of $100,000 To Be Used for Scholarships

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 7.—A hundred thousand dollars to endow scholarships for young men has come to the University of California through the decree of final distribution for the estate of Mrs. Carrie M. Jones of Los Angeles. The income, between $5000 and $6000 a year, is to go to young men already qualified for admission to the University who intend to take a full and not a partial course. These scholarships are for students who without this aid would be unable to pursue their studies at the University. Previously created endowments provided over $5000 a year for the support of scholarships in the University of California. Beside this, Levi Strauss and Company and Regent Phoebe A. Hearst give $3500 and $2400 every year, respectively, to maintain other scholarships. That it is primarily for the betterment of the state and for service to the world that the University of California seeks to train its students was the theme of an address delivered at the last University meeting by Dean David P. Barrows, professor of Political Science. Present at this meeting were several hundred mayors, city engineers, superintendents of streets, city attorneys, health officers, auditors, etc., gathered together from all over the state as delegates to the annual convention, at the University, of the League of California Municipalities. Professor Barrows spoke of the fact that the municipal governments of California are more and more making use of the University as a place where their young men may be trained for expert service to the cities and towns, as municipal engineers, sanitary experts, health officials, playground directors, social betterment workers, and useful citizens.

The municipal welfare exposition held at the University through the convention of the League has attracted thousands of visitors, who have shown great interest in the exhibits of road building materials, municipal machinery, police signal systems, pure food, methods for protecting public health, etc.

Some Relics
Safety pins used by the Greeks twenty-two centuries ago, hobble skirts worn by Egyptian ladies full five thousand years ago, as recorded by the sculptors of that long vanished era, silver tweezers with which the ancient Incas of Peru plucked out the beard instead of shaving, trousers of types worn by the Indians of North America and by the aborigines of the Philippines, silver plugs used by the Peruvians to distend the lobes of the ears—these are some of the objects to be shown in the new Revolving Exhibit, this time devoted to "Dress and Adornment," which has just been placed on display at the University of California Museum of Anthropology, in the western building of the Affiliated Colleges, on Parnassus avenue, San Francisco, south of Golden Gate Park. In this museum are collections, assembled for the University by Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst, which could not be duplicated nor equalled for an expenditure of three million dollars. Since the building is much too small to permit the display of all the treasures of the museum, the plan of "Revolving Exhibits," of which this is the sixth, has been devised so that articles of particular interest may be brought out for two months at a time. The Peruvian, Greek, Roman, Egyptian, Indian, South Sea, Filipino, and Alaskan rooms of the museum are also open to visitors daily except Monday, without charge. A free illustrated lecture on "Dress and Adornment" will be given at 8 o'clock.

ment" will be given at the museum at 3 p. m. each Sunday until December 8. Visit Museum Hundreds of San Francisco school children are invited to the museum by the University on Thursday and Friday afternoons of each week. These Professor Albert L. Kroeber and other members of the Department of Anthropology lecture to them on the Indians of California, the Spanish explorers of the Southwest, Ancient Peru, and other subjects related to their school studies in geography and history, illustrating the lectures with demonstrations in the museum.

Andrew Puruseth, president of the International Seamen's Union, has just lectured at the University, on proposed legislation for amelioration of the condition of the world's sailors. Two of the most highly esteemed of the younger members of the faculty have left the University of California to head departments in Reed College, recently established at Portland. Dr. William Conger Morgan is to have charge of chemistry there, and Dr. Harry Beal Torrey, '95, the zoologist, is to head the department of biology. The year has begun at the University Farm at Davis with 150 students registered in the Farm School, (for boys of high school age) as compared with 99 last year. There are 75 enrolled for the first of the short courses for farmers—the two-weeks course in general agriculture—as compared with 39 last year.

HANDICAPPED
This is the Case With Many Santa Ana People

Too many Santa Ana citizens are handicapped with bad backs. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and stooping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief but cannot reach the cause. If the kidneys are weak. To eliminate the pains and aches of kidney back-ache you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys—thousands testify to their merit. Can you doubt Santa Ana evidence? Mrs. M. W. Davis, 768 Cypress avenue, Santa Ana, Cal., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our family off and on for several years. The person who has used Doan's Kidney Pills was severely afflicted with kidney trouble, the chief symptom being pains in the back. On a number of occasions he was obliged to quit work owing to the severeness of the attacks. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Dean's Drug Store (now Wheeler & Mateer's Drug Store) brought prompt relief and they have been an unfailing means of relief in this case since."

SPINELESS CACTUS APPLES ARE GOOD

Orange News: Spineless cactus as a producer of table fruit is rather a new phase of the cactus question, but as a matter of fact the apple of the spineless cactus is being used to some extent as a table delicacy.
On the Whittlesley ranch, three miles west of Orange, there is a patch of spineless cactus several acres in extent which is at present heavily loaded with large ripe fruit. To this patch Mexicans come and buy hundreds of pounds of the apple, for the Mexican has learned that the fruit is entirely edible. Some of the fruit is marketed at 10 cents per dozen.
The cactus apple grown on the spineless cactus is itself almost free from spines. It is the size and shape of a good-sized pear, and when a rather thick peel is removed, a pleasantly flavored center is revealed. It is said that the taste for the fruit may be cultivated until one becomes fond of it.
Horses eat readily of the fruit, but of the plant itself, growers say that stock must become accustomed to it before they will take to it as a forage.

FRANK GOULDS SELL PROPERTY IN U. S. TO LIVE IN FRANCE
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Frank J. Gould, with his wife and three sisters, arrived from France yesterday and both Mr. and Mrs. Gould made statements regarding their plans for establishing a permanent residence abroad. Mr. Gould said:
"I intend to abandon America as a residence and in future shall make my home in France. I have disposed of all my property in America."
Mrs. Gould said:
"In our home in France we are going to have the most magnificent swimming pool on the continent. It is to be built of marble and will cost several hundred thousand dollars. We expect it will be completed late this winter."
Mr. Gould said that his health was the sole reason for his change of residence. He stated emphatically that he did not intend to renounce the United States as his country and that his status would be simply that of an American citizen living abroad. The Goulds will remain here for about three months.

MADE SCHEDULE FOR ATHLETICS

Annual County Track Meet Will be Held in Santa Ana—Basket-ball Dates

ANAHEIM, Oct. 7.—The first meeting this year of the representatives of the several high schools of this county was held Saturday afternoon at the Orange Union High School. The athletic schedules were officially made for the first half of this school year.

As Santa Ana High School and the Orange High School are the only ones playing the American game of Football there was no regular schedule made. Each of these teams belongs to another league outside of Orange county. Huntington Beach High School is taking up soccer for the first time this year and is giving the game a thorough workout. Fullerton and Anaheim will not take up either of these this year.

The annual Orange county track meet was given to Santa Ana, to be held on March 8, 1913. Santa Ana treated the visitors in good style this spring and their invitation for the coming year was accepted readily.
The last football game of the season will be on Thanksgiving Day, which will leave from then until January 18 for the basketball season. The first games of the latter sport begin on November 23 for the boys, and on November 16 for the girls. The girls will have a two-game schedule, the boys a single game schedule. The dates for the games were set as follows:

Girls—November 16, Santa Ana vs. Anaheim at Anaheim; Orange vs. Huntington Beach at Orange. November 23, Fullerton vs. Huntington Beach at Fullerton; Orange vs. Anaheim at Orange. December 7, Fullerton vs. Santa Ana at Santa Ana; Anaheim vs. Huntington Beach at Anaheim. December 14, Huntington Beach vs. Santa Ana at Huntington Beach; Orange vs. Fullerton at Fullerton. January 11, Orange vs. Santa Ana at Orange; Fullerton vs. Anaheim at Anaheim. January 18, Anaheim vs. Santa Ana at Santa Ana; Huntington Beach vs. Orange at Huntington Beach. January 25, Huntington Beach vs. Fullerton at Huntington Beach; Anaheim vs. Orange at Anaheim. February 1, Santa Ana vs. Fullerton at Fullerton; Huntington Beach vs. Anaheim at Huntington Beach. February 8, Huntington Beach vs. Santa Ana at Santa Ana; Orange vs. Fullerton at Orange. February 15, Orange vs. Santa Ana at Santa Ana; Fullerton vs. Anaheim at Fullerton.

This completes the girls' schedule. The boys begin on November 23, with Fullerton vs. Huntington Beach at Fullerton; Anaheim vs. Orange at Orange. December 7, Santa Ana vs. Fullerton at Santa Ana; Huntington Beach vs. Anaheim at Anaheim. December 14, Orange vs. Santa Ana at Orange; Huntington Beach vs. Fullerton at Fullerton. January 11, Santa Ana vs. Orange at Orange; Anaheim vs. Fullerton at Anaheim. January 18, Santa Ana vs. Anaheim at Santa Ana; Huntington Beach vs. Huntington Beach at Huntington Beach. Anaheim is the only school that is playing basketball at present, and is recognized as the greatest rival of Huntington Beach for the highest honors in the coming season. The game this year will be at Anaheim on the seventh of December, and from the present viewpoint will be well worth seeing. Santa Ana will have a strong team and they are already recognized as being "dangerous."

PASTOR RUSSELL AT ILLINOIS STATE FAIR

Honor to the Son Means Honor to the Father Also.

Work of Calvary Progressing, but Far From Finished—Selection of Elect Church the Beginning—Not the Completion, of the Divine Purpose.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 6.—Pastor Russell arrived yesterday, the guest of the State Board. In his evening address the text was taken from Philippians II, 11: "At the name of Jesus every knee shall bow and every tongue confess."

Pastor Russell drew attention to the fact that for half a century the world has been undergoing a most marvelous revolution along the lines of increase of knowledge. He referred briefly to the share of Illinois in this onward march of intelligence. This, he said, is plainly manifest at this fair in the wonderful display of labor-saving devices, etc.

He remarked on the school exhibitions and what they indicate of the progress of general knowledge even amongst the young. He remarked also on the improved breeds of live-stock, poultry, etc. This progress belongs to the last fifty years. The fruits and vegetables also, he declared, remind one of Paradise and lead us to wonder if there could have been more nearly perfect fruit and vegetables there.

These things are corroborative of the Bible testimony that we are at the threshold of a glorious Epoch, called in the Scriptures The Reign of Christ for a Thousand Years. Our blessings are the forebodings of coming blessings, which, undoubtedly, will be manifold greater. The Scriptures, he declared, tell not only of the Six Great Days of the Reign of Sin and Death (each day 1,000 years), but also of the Great Seventh Day of 1,000 years—the Sabbath of rest from toil and sweat of face, the rolling away of the Curse and the pouring out of God's blessing.

So accustomed have we become to the Reign of Sin and Death that many incline to think it the normal condition. But not so. There is no sin in heaven, and the Bible explains that there will be no evidences of the curse on earth at the close of Messiah's Reign. Father Adam's disobedience and sin brought the curse, "Dying thou shalt die."

"In God's Due Time." Long ago the Omnipotent One could have bound or have destroyed Satan and all rebellious to the Divine arrangements. On the contrary God has permitted evil as a great lesson, until He shall be ready to establish His Kingdom. The foundation of all the coming blessings rests upon the sacrifice of Jesus at Calvary. But the first direct result has been the gathering of the Church, the Elect, from every nation and denomination. These perfected in the First Resurrection, will constitute the Kingdom class, associated with the Redeemer in His glorious work of the future.

Many of us have not appreciated the work of Christ in full; we thought that He died merely to assist the Church. As the Apostle says, He is indeed the Satisfaction for the Church's sins, "and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world." (1 John II, 2) His Church will be His associates in His great work of blessing all nations, kindreds and peoples for whom He died, "the just for the unjust."

The marvels of our day are merely the forebodings of this Thousand-Year Day of Messiah's Reign. But we must not expect all the good things that God has promised just yet. Human pride will first be brought low; injustice will first have a great punishment—"a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation."—Daniel xii, 1. The lifting of the veil of ignorance has been delayed until now because the effect of the knowledge in an unsanctified heart is to bring discontent. This is the meaning of the restless condition of the world today, which is leading on to anarchy. God graciously withheld the light until now, so that the time of trouble resulting may be duly checked by His Kingdom, which is about to be set up, and for which we have so long prayed, "Thy Kingdom come; Thy will be done on earth."

"Every Knee Shall Bow." As Messiah's Kingdom shall progress in its establishment, darkness, ignorance, superstition, will continue to yield before the light of the Sun of Righteousness, until the whole earth shall be filled with the knowledge of God, until the True Light shall lighten every man—until there shall be no need for one to say to his neighbor, Know thou the Lord, for all shall know Him. In that glorious day the world will have abundant opportunity, not only for knowing, but also for coming to obedience. The Redeemer will be the Helper, the glorious King, to reign and rule, and the glorious Priest, to instruct and uplift; and the Church will be His associates and joint-heirs. The world will then get the great blessing of human restitution and uplift, and all who refuse shall be destroyed in the Second Death. Then will come to pass the promise of our text, that "Every knee shall bow and every tongue confess, to the glory of God."

Husband Gets Year in San Quentin, Mrs. Ford 14 Years' Probation

Time For Nominating Assemblyman or State Senator by Petition Ended Saturday

Pleading guilty this morning to forgery, R. S. Ford was sentenced to a year in San Quentin, and his wife, Susannah Ford, was allowed to go on probation with a fourteen-year sentence to San Quentin standing against her.

The couple came to Santa Ana about six weeks ago, and several worthless checks were passed by them. One for $25 was accepted at Heinhaus Bros. store, another for $25 by the Rutgers, and one for $20 by J. T. Wilson. The name forged was that of the young woman's father. Two charges were brought against the couple, and their cases had been set down for trial in the superior court when the couple decided to plead guilty.

Time Has Gone By
The time when nominations can be made by petitions and the nominee find a place on the ballot to be used on Nov. 5 is past. Saturday was the last day on which petitions could be filed. The fact is significant in view of the fact that the Taft Republican county convention authorized its central committee to make nominations for assemblyman and state senator if it saw fit.

V. U. Simpson of Anaheim has petitioned for letters of administration on the estate of his wife, Clara A. Simpson, who died on Sept. 29, leaving an estate valued at $7500. Melrose & Ames are attorneys for the petitioner.

BOOT-LEGGER IS SENTENCED

Young Man Who Has Been Selling Liquor Was Caught at it Saturday Night

Ray Soto, a Spaniard about 22 years old, today pleaded guilty to selling liquor, and was sentenced by City Recorder Wilson to pay a fine of $150 or go to jail for 150 days. Soto went to jail.

Soto has been making his living recently by boot-legging, and City Marshal Jernigan has been trying to get him. Saturday night Officers Lacy and Dean laid in wait, and saw Soto sell a bottle of whiskey to a man who had been attending a dance in Neill's Hall. Soto was arrested immediately, and two bottles of whiskey were found in his pockets.

This morning Soto pleaded guilty. He said that he had been in the habit of selling liquor.

Fines Are Paid
Motorcycle Officer Lambert made two arrests Saturday, and in each case City Recorder Wilson collected $5. W. Gast was taken for speeding a motorcycle on North Main, and O. Cayano for running his machine with the muffler open.

Lacy on Vacation
Officer Ryan, who has been on a vacation of two weeks, returned to duty last night, and Officer Lacy went off duty for a vacation.

CHLOROFORM SHOT AT HER

Robber Tried to Overcome Woman by Use of Sprayer or Syringe

ANAHEIM, Oct. 7.—A bold attempt at robbery was made Saturday night at 9:30 o'clock when an unknown man shot chloroform through a window screen with intent of overpowering Mrs. J. F. Raines, residing on Elm street. A sprayer or syringe was used. Mrs. Raines became aware of the presence of some one at the window, by which she was sitting awaiting the return of her husband from the evangelistic meetings, when she heard the air from the gun. In her fright she screamed loudly for help. A moment later a second discharge of the sprayer was made through the window, and Mrs. Raines screamed again. Her calls were heard by neighbors, who ran to the house at once, but the man had fled when they reached Mrs. Raines, who was in a semi-conscious condition from the effects of the chloroform.

Raines is employed by the Standard Oil Company and was paid-off during the afternoon. He remembers that there were three strangers nearby when he received the money. When he left home in the evening to attend the meeting he handed his purse to his wife for safe-keeping. It is presumed this transaction was witnessed by the man who later attempted the use of the drug. The police are making a round-up of the suspicious characters of town but have no definite clew.

Eagles' Carnival
Anaheim is to have four big days of carnival, beginning next Wednesday. The event will be under the auspices of the Anaheim Eagles, the California Carnival Company providing the amusements. The carnival was first advertised to occur Labor Day but the appearance of infantile paralysis caused the festivities to be postponed. The grounds used for the carnival will be the Deutsch tract between Center and Lemon streets. Three hundred members of the Eagles are boosting the coming event and there is much enthusiasm among members of other lodges of Southern California.

ON TWO WEEKS' TRIP FOR GAME AND FISH

William Titchenal, proprietor of the Cherry Blossom, and Clare T. Johnson, the Register's composing-room foreman, started this morning on a two weeks' hunting and fishing trip. They have their camping outfit packed on Titchenal's Kissel Kar, and are prepared to camp at any spot that looks good to them. They go from here to the Santa Inez river. Returning they will get into the Bakersfield lakes country for duck hunting. Titchenal and Johnson are both enthusiastic and successful hunters and anglers.

WHAT TIME IS IT?

LAWYERS WILL MAKE REPORT

They Are to Tackle Points Submitted to Them by Board of Freeholders

Attorney H. J. Forgy, secretary of the Orange County Bar Association, has given notice to local members of the association of a meeting to be held tonight in the superior court room, for the purpose of considering matters submitted to the association by the Santa Ana board of freeholders. The freeholders have practically completed the charter. They believe they have it in the shape that they will report it to the city trustees and as it will be submitted to the voters of the city. However, there are a number of points that need legal retention, and specific questions have been put to the association concerning certain provisions of the charter. It is the purpose to present these questions to the meeting of the Bar Association tonight, pass upon them and report to the freeholders at once.

The charter must be completed and submitted to the city trustees by Oct. 30. The question of salaries will be left until nearly the last meeting of the freeholders. Some of the freeholders favor $1500 a year for the mayor and clerk, and some favor $1800. For the commissioners, opinions run from $480 to $900 with $10 a month extra for services as school trustees.

FIRST TIME IN LIFE CALLED IN A DOCTOR

D. W. McDannald, Orange County's representative and lecturer at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, had a new experience last Saturday, and not a very pleasant one either. McDannald is now 60 years old. He has never been sick enough to need a physician's attention—never until last Saturday morning. While at work at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce he was taken suddenly ill, and in a few minutes' time he was rigid. Frank Wiggins called in a doctor, and the doctor hustled McDannald to a hospital. It was not long before the attack passed away, and Saturday evening McDannald was able to get to his home at Berrydale, west of the Santa Ana river. The attack was probably due to something that McDannald had eaten. He says he ate little for breakfast except some eggs and bacon, and he thinks both eggs and bacon were good. McDannald is a good judge of eggs and bacon, and if some Los Angeles restaurant-keeper fooled him on quality the restaurant-keeper broke a record, just as McDannald did when his condition of health necessitated calling in a physician.
